We revised the design from the original sketch that we planned. It happens because of the time limit and our limitations in developing the app.

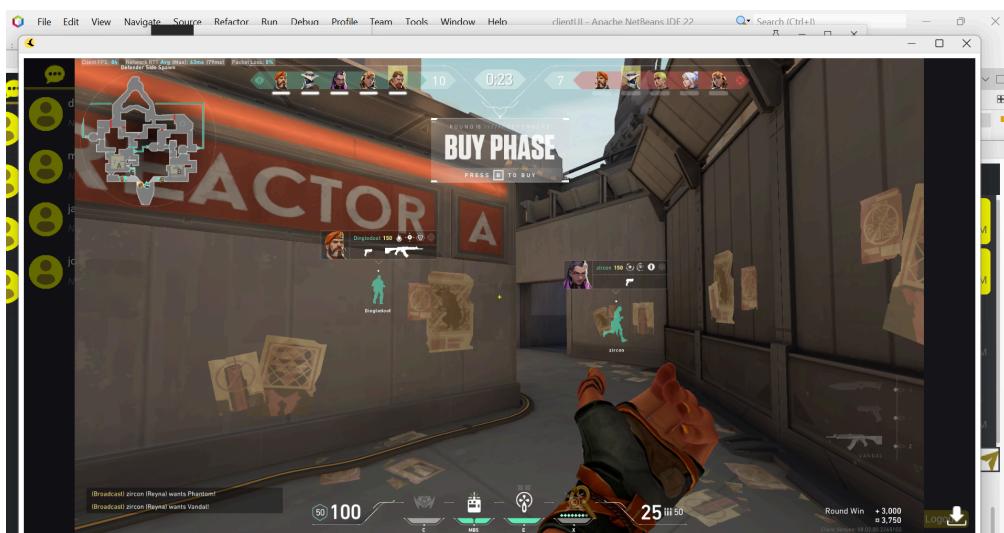

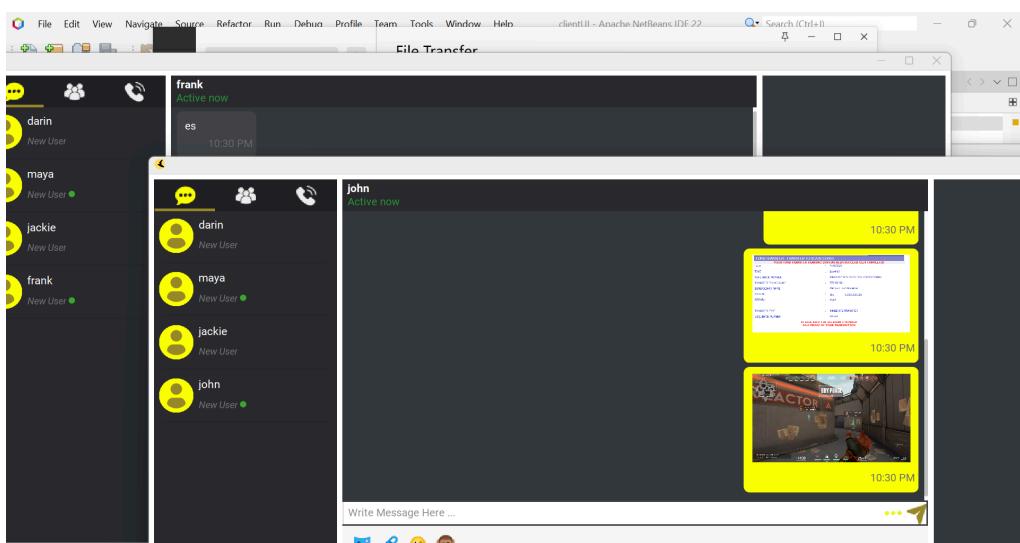

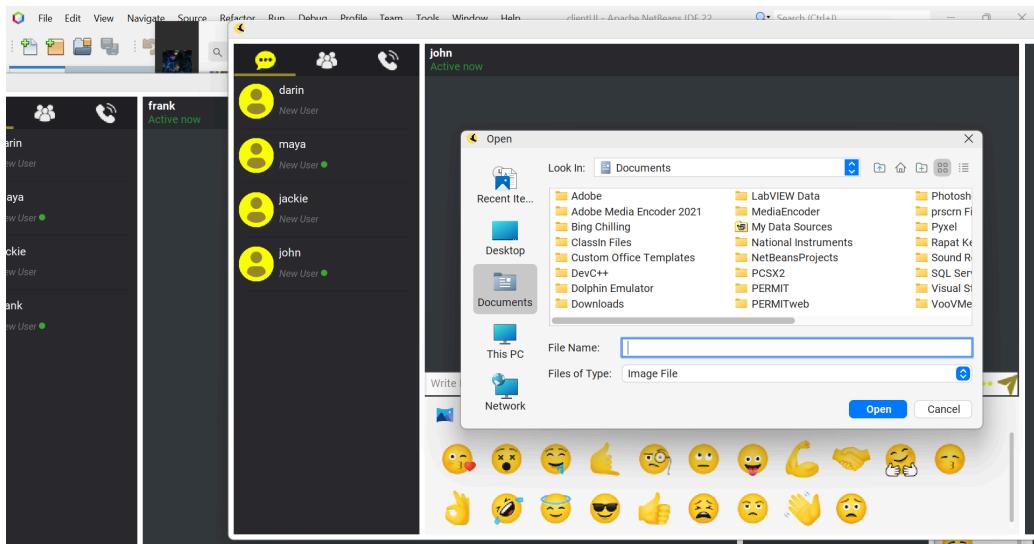

Login/Register page

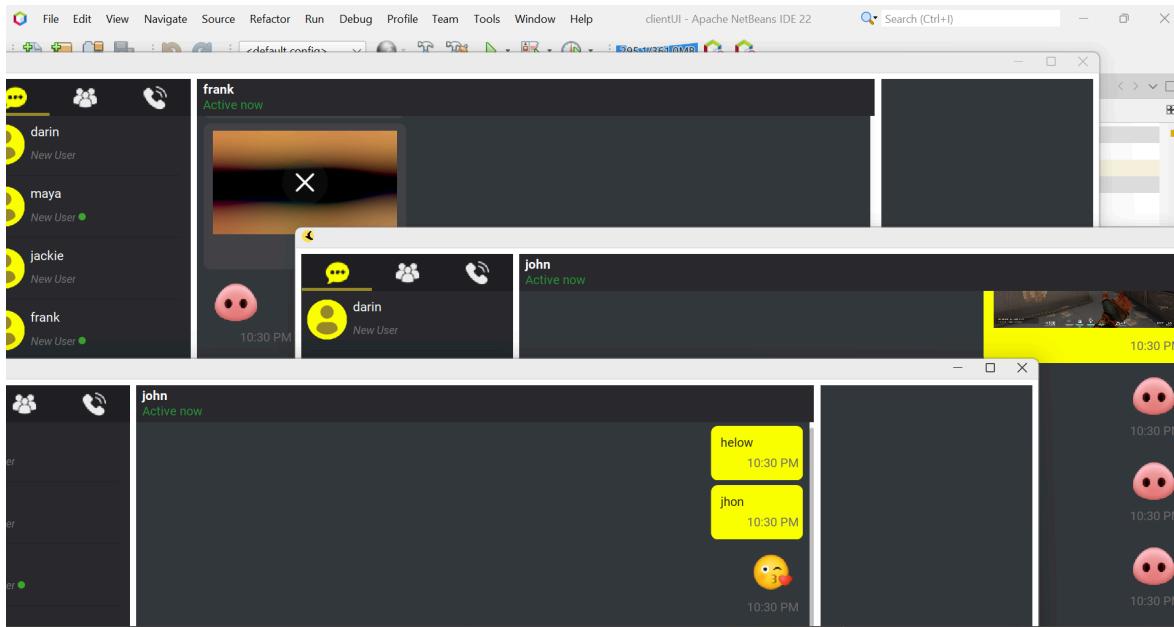

This is the login page now. It is more simple compared to the one that we sketched before. This has a picture of cute graphics design and a simple box. We planned it to have an image background but because of the complexity and time we are not able to accomplish it.

Chat page

This is how the newly designed chat page looks like. It is simple and usable. It does not have many animations but the basic necessity needed is present. There is a part to select the contacts that the users want to chat with. If the user taps on one of the contacts then it will open up a window to make the chat window visible. In the chat windows the user can chat, send stickers and also send images. The images can also be pressed to show a new window screen with the enlarged picture
